

Foxton

Sharp lines & profiled edges form an integral part of the Foxtons' personality and aesthetic. The model features a strong look in part thanks to the raked angle of the arm bolster which sits between the outside edge of the seat cushion and the inside of the arm.

This structured look continues further thanks to the clean lines of the foam seat interiors as standard on the model. Finally sitting on a choice of brushed metal and matt black legs, the product retains a sharp, contemporary feel for the modern family home.
